Steel Firms, Union Talks In Stalemate

PITTSBURGH (AP) — Top steel negotiators for the United Steelworkers union report that money talks toward a new labor contract in the steel industry are at a standstill with only three weeks before the deadline.

"All we get from the companies are stories about how poverty-stricken they are," President I.W. Abel told the first big caucus of the current bargaining Wednesday.

"We mean business," he said. "I think it would be foolish of the steel industry to doubt that. We closed down copper for 8½ months."

However, Abel told representatives of the nation's 450,000 basic steelworkers that it was still too early to tell whether a strike would be necessary.

"I imagine it will go right down to the wire as always with us bickering like the dickens to the last minute," Abel said.

Without saying so, Abel indicated he expected local union presidents to go back and get the rank and file ready for a overwhelming vote in favor of a strike as the Aug. 1 contract expiration nears.

"Frankly, I didn't intend to get into this tonight," Abel told the meeting of the union's 200-man, 11-company advisory committee. "But when the basic industry conference meets next Tuesday we expect a recommendation . . ."

"I think it is time for you to let the members know that we mean business up here," he said. "If strike we must, strike we will."

Another official got up in the audience and said he wanted to see 95 per cent of the rank and file vote in favor of a strike.

There has never been a strike vote by the steel industry's rank and file, although there have been six steel strikes since World War II. Union bylaws were changed recently to permit a strike vote.

At the union meeting and at a news conference afterwards, Abel dodged questions about specific union proposals on money issues.

The companies have said they will fight any attempt to get a wage and benefits package adding as much as 6 per cent to their labor costs. This was the pattern in the union's can and aluminum negotiations earlier in the year.

The companies say a 6 per cent boost would wipe out two-thirds of the industry's profits and put some companies out of business.

Steelworkers now are paid an average of $3.67 an hour. The industry says fringe benefits pushes the figure to $4.88.

The New York governor said any candidate who hopes to win has "got to have his base in the North and West—in the big cities," where Rockefeller said he expects to run well.

He made the comments on the top deck of the Belle of Louisville near the end of a three-day swing that took him from California to Nashville, Tenn., and Louisville, Ky.

The Herald Traveler story said some politicians believed Reagan's entry into the presidential race would come as "the last hope of stopping the nomination of Richard M. Nixon" at the Republican National Convention.

Nixon, who lost to the late John F. Kennedy in 1960 after campaigning in every state in the nation, indicated he will concentrate this time on such vote-heavy states as New York, California, Illinois, Pennsylvania, Ohio, Michigan and Texas.

SAIGON (AP) — Despite massive allied manhunts and record air raids around Saigon, U.S. forces and their allies in the Vietnam war killed fewer enemy troops last week than they had any week for a year and a half, the U.S. Command reported today.

The weekly casualty report reflected a prolonged lull in the ground war which senior U.S. officers blamed on refusal of the enemy to be drawn into combat.

There were 961 Viet Cong and North Vietnamese reported killed last week, while U.S. casualties of 198 killed and 1,248 wounded were the second lowest of the year. South Vietnamese casualties also were reduced.

There was no lull in the air war, however, as U.S. fliers reported their second MIG in two days shot down Wednesday over North Vietnam. American pilots also reported destroying or damaging 86 barges and sampans around the North Vietnamese port of Dong Hoi, 40 miles north of the demilitarized zone.

The enemy casualty toll last week was the lowest reported since the week ending Jan. 7, 1967, when the U.S. Command reported 626 Viet Cong and North Vietnamese killed.

The total of 1,446 Americans killed or wounded was the lowest since the first week of this year, when 184 Americans were killed and 1,132 were wounded, or a total of 1,316. The 198 Americans killed last week were 11 more than the 187 reported the previous week, but the 1,248 wounded last week were far below the 1,928 wounded the week before.

The South Vietnamese government said 213 of its soldiers were killed and 597 were wounded last week, a drop from 273 killed and 856 wounded a week earlier.

The weekly report increased total American casualties reported since Jan. 1, 1961, to 25,752 killed and 160,691 wounded.

Senior U.S. officers believe the elusive enemy troops are regrouping, replenishing their equipment and supplies and taking on reinforcements from North Vietnam in preparation for the third major enemy offensive of the year. It is expected to hit hardest at Saigon and the area below the demilitarized zone.

There was no word of any reaction to the offer. And the government remained out of the picture.

"The government should not interfere with the collective bargaining process," Trudeau said in a telegram to the Montreal Port Council, a private organization that promotes Montreal port facilities. The council had asked Trudeau to find a solution to the strike.

Trudeau received other requests for action Wednesday—one from an organization of Great Lakes shipowners that urged him to use the armed forces if necessary to operate the seaway.

That message was from the Dominion Marine Association, which said its members are spending more than $5,000 a day to keep idle ships in operating condition. Trudeau's office would say only that the request was being studied.

Gladstone Girl Auto Victim

A four-year-old Gladstone girl who was run over by an automobile while she was lying in the traffic lane of a Gladstone street died about 6:30 p.m. Wednesday at St. Francis Hospital where she had been rushed by ambulance.

Gladstone Police said Lisa Ann Goodyer, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harold J. Goodyer, 427 Minneapolis Ave., was struck about 4:35 p.m. by a car driven by Lawrence Pavlick, 56, of 602 S. 8th St., Escanaba, in the 500 block of Minneapolis Ave.

Officers said the girl was lying in the street in a shadow, apparently pretending she had been hit by a car, and that Pavlick didn't see her until after the accident.

Police are continuing investigation, but Pavlick was not held.

Two young men from Gladstone who were walking on the sidewalk near the accident told officers they did not notice the girl until she screamed when she was hit.

Lisa had been playing with two other children in the area, officers reported.

Sen. Strom Thurmond, R-S.C., who has vowed an all-out fight against the nominations, has said he will exercise his right to bar the committee from sitting while the Senate is in session.

Thurmond is one of 17 Republican senators spearheading the fight against confirmation. But President Johnson has the senior GOP leader, Everett M. Dirksen of Illinois, in his corner.

Charge Politics

Sen. Robert P. Griffin, R-Mich., charged today there had been "obvious political maneuvering to create a vacancy on the Supreme Court" so President Johnson could fill it before he left office.

"Such maneuvering at a time when the people are in the process of choosing a new government is an affront to the electorate," Griffin said.

He commented in testimony prepared for the Senate Judiciary Committee.

British Push Auto Exports

LONDON (AP) — British auto industry sources are confident auto companies will meet the 35 per cent increase in exports predicted recently by Sir George Harriman, president of the Society of Motor Manufacturers and Traders.

Vehicle exports in 1967 totaled about 500,000. The 1968 target is about 675,000. Exports in the first five months of 1968 totaled 278,000.

Guild Told News Will Match Any Free Press Bid

DETROIT (AP) — The Detroit News has told the American Newspaper Guild it would match any offer made to the Guild by the Detroit Free Press, a union spokesman said.

Both the News and the Free Press have been shut down for 239 days in what is believed to be the longest newspaper blackout in American history.

The News employs only 90

Guildsmen as janitors and cleaning women. At the Free Press, all editorial employees belong to the Guild as well.

The News had said earlier it would give the Guild 70 per cent of the $33 a week 34½ month economic package negotiated with other unions.

The government would help meet payments if they amounted to more than 20 per cent of family income. This help would consist of absorbing some of the interest cost, so that in extreme cases, the family would pay only 1 per cent.

The House voted to limit the program to families with income not more than 30 per cent above the level, varying in each community, that sets a ceiling for occupancy of public housing.

License Stolen, She Gets Ticket

OMAHA, Neb. (AP) — Elaine Lawson, 31, told police two boys snatched her purse containing $30 and her drivers license when she stopped to use a public telephone. An hour later she was involved in a minor traffic accident. Police ticketed her for failure to have a drivers license.

The officer declined her explanation, saying she would have to tell it to the judge.

Senators Try To Get Gun Bill By Committee

WASHINGTON (AP) — Senate backers of tougher gun controls, racing congressional adjournment, may try to bypass the committee that has handed them one setback after another and take their case straight to the floor.

Even if successful, however, any kind of gun control bill now faces a doubtful future dependent largely on a House of Representatives that seems in no hurry to grapple with the subject.

Advocates of stricter controls suffered two setbacks in the Senate Wednesday and one in the House.

Delay Action

The Senate Judiciary Committee stripped down a measure to provide registration and licensing of firearms and for the fourth time in as many weeks delayed action on a bill to ban mail order sales of rifles, shotguns and ammunition.

Leaders in the House, which was to have taken up a similar bill on sales of long guns today, postponed floor action until sometime next week, possibly Tuesday.

With the Senate Judiciary tied up the rest of this week and perhaps a good part of next on President Johnson's Supreme Court nominations, gun control backers said they would take their fight directly to the floor.

Pressure Congressmen

Sen. Joseph D. Tydings, D-Md., whose registration and licensing proposals were emasculated by the committee Wednesday, said he would confer with the Senate leadership on the best way to go around it.

Both Democratic Leader Mike Mansfield of Montana and Republican Leader Everett M. Dirksen of Illinois generally favored Tydings' proposals. Sen. Hugh Scott, R-Pa., said he would join Tydings' effort.

An assist could come from outside the Senate.

The Emergency Committee for Gun Control, formed in the wake of Sen. Robert F. Kennedy's assassination, said it would step up its drive to flood the Congress with mail before the scheduled Aug. 3 adjournment.

"Tonight we have reason to be angry. Tonight we have reason to be outraged," said former astronaut John H. Glenn, committee chairman.

Long Guns Exempted

"But tomorrow," he added, "we intend to double and redouble our efforts to flood the Congress with mail. We simply believe that the people can reach their elected representatives in Washington and make them listen."

The Tydings bill would give the states up to two years to adopt firearms licensing and registration laws with the federal government stepping in if they failed to comply.

But the Judiciary Committee, by two 8-7 votes, exempted shotguns and rifles, making the provisions apply only to pistols.

Cyclist Is Killed

GRAND RAPIDS (AP) — Daniel Shay, 18, of Grand Rapids, was killed instantly Wednesday when his motorcycle collided with a truck on the city's Northwest Side. Police said Shay, who would have been a senior at Union High School, was wearing a protective helmet at the time.

Schools To Ask 5.4 Mills, Cutbacks Scheduled If....

A 5.4 mill proposal to operate the Escanaba Area public schools for the next two years will be submitted to voters of the school district at the special election Monday, Aug. 19.

The proposal was adopted by the Board of Education and outlined to members of the news media at a special meeting at noon today at the House of Ludington.

An alternative to passage of the millage, the board said, would be to trim about $215,000 from the district's anticipated 1968-69 operating budget of $2,647,470.

The Board emphasized that none of the existing educational program would be eliminated in the proposed cutback.

The Board further emphasized that the cutbacks proposed are strictly an alternative only to be implemented if the millage proposal is again defeated.

It was pointed out that about 80 per cent of the school district's expenses are committed to employees in salaries through negotiated contracts, leaving only about 20 per cent of the budget to reduce.

Cutbacks proposed include:

- Blacktopping at elementary school playgrounds, estimated savings $24,000;
- All bus transportation, savings $71,000;
- Seven additional teachers proposed for the 1968-69 school year, savings $40,000;
- Improvements at the Junior High library, savings $7,000;
- Construction of Junior High playground area, savings $7,000;
- Five custodial jobs, savings $21,000;

Three secretarial jobs, savings $9,000;

Maintenance of buildings, including heating and lighting improvements at Webster School and lighting at the Junior High and additional instructional materials, savings $15,000;

Teacher and administrative conference expense, including School Board Association dues, savings $3,000;

Bus for handicapped children, savings $6,800.

The cutbacks detailed total about $203,800. Other reductions in various areas would save the remaining $11,200 over the proposed $215,000 trim.

The election Aug. 19 will be the third on the same proposal in the past four months and the fifth request for millage since last August. All four previous requests have been defeated at the polls.

Cutbacks proposed are the alternative solution reached by the board to continue operation of the school district this year without severely affecting the educational program of the district.

The reductions would not balance the budget, the board stated, but would hold the district's debt to about $108,000, an increase of only $18,000 over that experienced in 1967-68 operations.

The board agreed unanimously that there is no other alternative but to trim expenses if the millage request is defeated again.

The 5.4 mill proposal, if approved, would raise about $305,000 on the district's tax base of $56,530,683.

Even this, the board explained, would not allow complete retirement of the $90,000 debt incurred from 1967-68 operations, but would allow repayment of about two thirds of the debt and balance the 1968-69 budget.

Anticipated income for district for the 1968-69 school year is $2,414,280, including $1,004,058 from local sources, $1,339,931 from state aid, and $70,291 in federal aid.

The income expected is some $233,190 short of anticipated expenses and coupled with the $90,000 carryover debt from 1967-68 operations leaves a deficit of about $323,190.

The Board of Supervisors will consider the question of legalizing Sunday liquor sales in Delta County at a special meeting at 7:30 p.m., Friday at the Delta County Building.

A new Michigan law authorizes county boards to legalize sale of liquor beginning at 2 p.m., on Sundays by establishments which derive at least half their gross revenue from sale of services or goods other than liquor.

County Clerk William E. Butler said consideration of a Sunday liquor resolution for Delta County was one of only three items on the limited agenda.

The Board also will consider supporting Gladstone in opposition to the proposed rate increase by Michigan Consolidated Gas Co., and also will consider ratification of the Building and Grounds Committee action conveying the old courthouse property on 1st Ave. S. in Escanaba, to the City of Escanaba.

Action by the committee was taken after no bids were received for its purchase.

The staff physicians' joint statement said:

"Unlike large metropolitan hospitals which have a full time house staff of interns and residents covering the emergency rooms service, St. Francis Hospital must rely on the attending staff physicians for this coverage. They must be called to the hospital from their offices, their homes or interrupted on house calls, as emergencies need arise. Because of this major difference in staffing the emergency room, proper use of this valuable service is necessary.

"The emergency room is not an outpatient clinic for non-emergency illnesses. It is to be used for patients who are acutely injured or have become acutely ill and need immediate medical attention. Too often it has been used to procure a physician for patients who have been ill for several days and have not taken the time or energy to visit their own physician in his office during his regular hours.

"Since every M.D. on the staff has regular office hours, or some other physician covering his emergency calls after office hours, it is urged that the patient or his relatives contact their own physician first, in all emergencies, before taking the patient to the hospital.

"The physician may deem it best for the patient to be taken to his office for treatment. If hospitalization is indicated, he can then expedite the care of the patient in the emergency room and probably meet the patient on arrival there, thus eliminating much of the delay in procuring a physician for emergency treatment.

"The doctor on emergency call is responsible to care for the patients who do not have their own personal physician during acute emergencies. Therefore, it is suggested that all persons have or make arrangements for a family physician to care for their family at all times."

Twins' Moms Share Double Joy And Double Woe

A PLAYGROUND can get a little crowded when the twins of the area all get together. At Wednesday's Twins' Picnic at Ludington Park, the younger set tried the slide. From the top down are, Mary and Barbara Moser, Joy and June Mills, Heidi and Holly Bryson and Chris and Connie Koster. (Daily Press Photo)

By PEGGY BRYSON
It's almost impossible for a mother to resist talking about her children. For mothers of twins, because we're sort of unique, it's doubly hard.

Since Jan Martin, Escanaba Daily Press women's editor, is vacationing this week I thought I'd take advantage of my role as acting women's editor and use this otherwise vacant space for my own "bragging corner."

In case you haven't heard, we mothers of twins in the Escanaba area have formed a new group, the M.O.T.C. (lovingly referred to as Motsey, for Mothers of Twins Club).

A Challenge

Our purposes are many but of course the main aim is to become better mothers through the challenge of raising twins.

The word challenge isn't used lightly, believe me. Twins have what appears to be a natural ability to "gang-up" on mothers or for that matter anyone of authority.

They have a private world of their own that allows no trespassing. The MOTC seeks to draw out the individuality of the child and stresses the importance of teaching a twin to be independent of his partner... a hard thing to do without lessons of someone's past experiences.

The local group of twins' mothers will become affiliated with the National Organization of Mothers of Twins Club, headquarters, Toledo, O., in August. Through the national group we will cooperate in research projects at major universities (twins are invaluable to researchers for comparative studies) and try to give the public information about twins.

Our local club, which was started in January, currently has 10 active, four semi-active and numerous prospective members.

The twins' ages range from five months to 21 years and, believe me, the mother of the 21-year-olds will be of greater service to the club than she knows, because of all her experience.

So often with any mother of several small toddlers it's hard to put things into perspective. I, at least, often find my kids running me instead of vice-versa.

Nobody Knows
In my own case, my oldest, Betsy, is three and twins, Heidi and Holly are two. Things get just a bit wild around the house at times and when mothers of just one - child - at - a - time type (including my dear mother) offer suggestions about raising children I get my feathers ruffled and think, "Humph, what does she know about having two little minds constantly working together against her, she just doesn't KNOW!"

But when a mother of twins says "This is how I handled it," the problem generally can be solved and it's easier to accept her advice. I'm sure my fellow club members feel the same way.

Up until Wednesday, when we had a family picnic for the twins, we had only met the mothers. Yesterday's picnic at Ludington Park gave us a chance to meet the object of all our discussions.

Other twins attending and their parents were: the Anderson twins, who are now Claris Lorenson and Doris Schram; my own Heidi and Holly, who are also claimed by Dick Bryson, my husband, 518 1st Ave., S.; Peter and Paul Kernosky, 4-year-old sons of Mr. and Mrs. James Kernosky, 1626 18th Ave. S.; Michael and Tracy Lewis, one-year-old twins of the Richard Lewis', 509½ 1st Ave. S.; Joy and June Mills, 7, daughters of Mr. and Mrs. Sam Mills, 1111 N. 18th St.; Mary and Barbara Moser, 11, Mr. and Mrs. Adolph Moser, Wilson and Ross Ann and Rose Marie Racicot, Mr. and Mrs. Harold Racicot, Schaffer.

Common Problem

The Dahlke twins, who are now Donna Andrews and Delores Lavolette, also dropped familiar brush off, "We only want the twins for this one!"

Twins are special and the other children in the family know it. If I walk downtown with the three children people rarely notice that there are three . . . it's always "Oh, are they twins?", or "Look at the twins!", etc., etc. Of course I enjoy every minute of it, but I wonder if Betsy does.

Avoiding The Big Bang

The wildest-eyed optimists in Washington don't expect that our negotiations with the Russians to limit and reduce nuclear weapons and anti-ballistic missiles will lead to the elimination of these weapons systems. But there can be progress short of a complete removal of this great threat to life on earth and the Johnson Administration is completely right in pushing these discussions.

All our Presidents in the Nuclear Age have hoped for and worked for some sort of containment of this threat of world holocaust, but with little results for most.

There is speculation here and elsewhere about why the intransigent Russians are now willing to discuss nuclear limitation and disarmament after having for so long been gunshy on the subject. It has been suggested that they may expect the Vietnam war to end and provide means in the United States for enlarged spending on nuclear arms and nuclear defense systems.

This sort of thing costs into the big billions and even Russia, which needn't answer to its citizenry in the same democratic dimensions that an American administration must do, isn't anxious to go overboard in such commitments. (The Russians, like all other peoples, want more of the good things of life, and there'll be few automobiles while most of the national wealth is going into armaments.)

Too, Russia may be worried that the United States had made technical advances with multiple warheads for its missiles which expand the potential of this weaponry so that the near parity of the two nations' intercontinental missile systems has again been destroyed; with the U.S. again out in front.

Whatever the reason, the Russians are now willing to talk nuclear arms limitation by most reckonings, although some of our spokesmen say that Soviet Premier Aleksei Kosygin's proposed 9-point program to halt a nuclear arms race is more of the same old Soviet propaganda garbage. The British take a brighter view of the prospects and see in Kosygin's plan some elements of earlier proposals by the Western nations for disarmament zones.

Man, suggests President Johnson, must try to shape his destiny, even in a nuclear age. The age opened in the closing phase of World War II and hastened the end of that conflict because only we had The Bomb, and after two had been dropped Japan hastened to make peace.

When Russia acquired nuclear capabilities it was suggested that nuclear war was now too horrible to be contemplated as an ultimate method of deciding quarrels between nations, and that wars would now end, or that there would be a cataclysmic nuclear war and a cinder world. Neither happened. A series of small "brush fire" wars ensued, employing conventional weapons, with the communists encouraging "wars of national liberation," which were usually masks for subversion in the communist pattern of world conquest.

Because nuclear war still is too horrible to contemplate, there has been no world war, but we have now been at war in Vietnam longer than in any other conflict in our national history, abstaining from use of nuclear weapons for fear of becoming involved in a larger war with Red China and/or Russia.

Red China and France both have nuclear weapons now and both are outside the current efforts for agreement on the limitation on nuclear weapons, but if Russia and the United States could agree on limitations it would be a long step toward controlling such weapons, or toward banding together of the major nuclear powers so that they could bring pressures upon nations rejecting controls to avoid nuclear adventures.

Unfortunately our representatives in Washington think that the nuclear threat is so huge that it is politically unsafe to avoid start on the creation of an enormously expensive missile defense system. So we're starting one, with the prospect that it will be enlarged into another enormous defense drain on the American people unless there can be some sanity exercised in the discussions now coming with the Soviet Union.

"Blank, blank, blank!" said West. "They might well have gone down if you hadn't doubled."

We feel sorry for East and even sadder for West. It is really bad luck to lose 2,020 points with as good a hand as East held. On the other hand, he had contributed at least 590 points to the loss when he doubled.

South's failure to use Blackwood should have told East that South was void of some suit and common sense should have told him that the void would be hearts. North had bid two hearts and East had raised diamonds.

Reds See Rhodesia As Africa Vietnam

By LEON DENNEN

United Nations, N. Y. (NEA)—The Security Council's economic sanctions against Rhodesia will make life vastly more difficult for all Rhodesians, white and black.

But they are not likely to bring down the "rebel" government of Prime Minister Ian Smith.

Nations, like individuals, have a stubborn will to survive and Rhodesia's white population of 230,000 will hardly submit without a fight.

Since 1965, when they renounced British rule and declared their independence, the embattled Rhodesians have demonstrated again that nationhood is an absolute value that cannot be destroyed or "abolished" by sanctions, boycotts and blockades.

The U. N.'s representatives from Africa and Asia understand this. After all, they are themselves in the midst of an almost orgiastic revival of nationalism. That is why they continue to press in the Security Council for military intervention in Rhodesia.

So far "cooler heads" have prevailed. The Council's resolution stopped short of approving the use of armed force against Ian Smith's government. But it ordered a complete trade and travel blockade of Rhodesia.

The United States joined Russia, Britain and France in voting for the blockade. But will the new sanctions be more effective than the previous economic boycott of Rhodesia ordered by the Security Council?

There is indeed grim irony in the fact that the Council's resolution was adopted "unanimously." For Russia, believe it or not — unlike the United States — continues to trade with Rhodesia.

Based on the double, South assumed that he would find East with the ace of diamonds. In that case, if East also held the queen, it would be better technique to try to ruff out the clubs. He led a club to his king and ruffed a club in dummy. Then he led a diamond from dummy. East played low and South finessed his jack. Since clubs had broken 4-2, he needed to find both the ace and queen of diamonds in the East hand.

He ruffed another club to establish his jack and led dummy's last diamond. East took his ace and South took the rest of the tricks, game, slam, rubber and everything else that wasn't nailed down.

The economic sanctions, no doubt, will impede Rhodesia's development, but they are not insurmountable.

South Africa and Portugal will continue to supply Rhodesia with oil and market her exports.

Even President De Gaulle, another self-styled champion of the "oppressed" colonial nations, is engaged in profitable trade with Rhodesia. Combined imports and exports between France and Rhodesia have increased 200 per cent since 1967.

Why, then, should the United States tighten the economic squeeze on Rhodesia?

complie and policeman. As former Secretary of State Dean Acheson said, "Rhodesia has done the United States no harm and threatens no one."

The fact is that Rhodesia's racial policy is vastly more progressive than Britain's restrictions on its own colored citizens. Since 1965, Rhodesia's black majority and white minority have shown a will to coexist and develop their country in peace. They certainly have no desire to turn Rhodesia into another strife-torn Nigeria or Congo.

And yet the State Department, in compliance with the Security Council's resolution, is even preparing to withdraw all American consulates from Rhodesia.

The United States thus finds itself in the anomalous position of fighting for South Vietnam's independence while encouraging Red guerrillas trained in Russia, Cuba and China to destroy Rhodesia's independence.

This is a short-sighted and dangerous policy. The Communists, it is increasingly clear, see Rhodesia as a potential Vietnam in Africa.

Air Taxi Will Speed U.P.-Detroit Mailings

Frederick Belen

BOYNE FALLS, Mich. — Deputy Postmaster General Frederick C. Belen disclosed here today a major new air taxi program to provide overnight first-class mail deliveries throughout Michigan as well as speed up service between Michigan and five other states.

Speaking at a Michigan state convention of the National Association of Postmasters, the nation's second top-ranking postal official from Washington, D.C. said: "In the development of plans for the air taxi service in Michigan, consideration was given to the fact that there are unique problems involved. Not only is the Northern Peninsula physically remote and separated by a time zone from the rest of the state, but we are attempting to provide overnight delivery in the state from two of the largest cities in the country — Detroit and Chicago."

"At the present time limited air taxi service between Iron Mountain, Mich., and these cities is improvement over previous service."

DeHaan Details Housing Plans

The Escanaba Optimist Club heard Bill DeHaan explain the proposed Senior Citizens' Housing Project at a meeting Wednesday at the House of Ludington.

DeHaan is a member of the five-man commission charged with providing good housing for the low income elderly in Escanaba. He said the chances of getting the permission to construct the planned 210-unit, double tower structure, were about 90 per cent.

DeHaan said the developer, Blumenfeld and Rakita, a Milwaukee development company, had invested almost $10,000 already and is seeking federal approval to go ahead with construction. Upon completion of the building the keys would be turned over to the City of Escanaba.

Such a structure would cost about $3 million and units would include one bedroom, a stove and refrigerator. A community room, arts and crafts, card room, mail room, TV room, community kitchen, lounge and laundry also would be provided in the building. Construction is expected to begin in the fall, with completion expected about a year later on the two 11-story towers. Except for supervisory personnel, most of the labor would be hired locally.

Rent per unit will be under $50 per month and applicants must be 62 years old, with assets under $7,000, not including personal assets. Incomes must be $3,000 or less for single applicants, or $3,500 for two people.

The building is expected to be located between the 500-600 blocks of 1st Ave. S. More than 300 applications have been received already. Anyone wishing to apply may pick up papers at the office of City Clerk Don Guindon.

Man, 22, Facing Forgery Charge In Delta Court

Ernest Miron, 22, of Milwaukee, Wednesday, was charged by Escanaba police with forgery following a complaint by his grandmother, Mrs. Bessie Dahm, 1225 Lake Shore Dr., that he wrote seven checks in the past few weeks valued at $1,020 on her account at a local bank.

Miron, arrested Monday at a local motel, waived examination in Municipal Court and was remanded to the county jail by Judge James Fitzpatrick in lieu of a $1,000 bond. He will be tried in August in Circuit Court.

Miron's wife, Louise Ann, 17, pleaded guilty in Municipal Court to a charge of obtaining money under false pretenses. She received a $10 fine, which was suspended, and was ordered to pay $5 court costs within a week.

Student Aid

MARQUETTE — Northern Michigan University will receive almost $170,000 to help students from low income families finance school expenses during the upcoming academic year. Most grants to students will range from $200 to $800, and will be renewable up to four years. The money is being made available through the Education Opportunity Grants Program of the U.S. Office of Education.

Survivors include four sons, Leo of Elk Grove Village, Ill., Joseph and Robert of Escanaba, and Paul of Houghton, eight grandchildren and two great grandchildren.

The body was taken to the Plowe Funeral Home, Houghton. Funeral services will be conducted at 9:30 a.m., Saturday at St. Ignatius Church with Fr. James McCarthy officiating. Entombment will be in Oakwood Mausoleum, Saginaw.

Building Loan

ALBION (AP) — Albion College announced Thursday receipt of a $360,000 federal loan for construction of an international center. The building will serve as an in-residence center for the teaching of foreign languages. The cost of the building, which will house 60 students, is estimated at $650,000.

The body was taken to the Plowe Funeral Home, Houghton. Funeral services will be conducted at 9:30 a.m., Saturday at St. Ignatius Church with Fr. James McCarthy officiating. Entombment will be in Oakwood Mausoleum, Saginaw.

Is Your Child Going To Camp?

At this time of the year many of our children are looking forward to camping. It's the duty of the parents to do their best to select a suitable place.

All the better camps have responsible directors and experienced counselors who love children and know how to lead and care for them.

A few things to look for in selecting a camp are:

1. Housing should be dry, clean and comfortable. 2. The facilities for sleeping, eating and sports should be adequate, not necessarily swanky. 3. A first aid station is a must, as it is very difficult to escape bruises, cuts, stings, sunburn, etc. 4. Make sure the camp has strict safety rules and that they are enforced.

Whether your child goes to camp or not — get ready for summer first aid with a visit to GROOS DRUG STORE. We stock everything you could possibly need. Drop in and browse around, you're always welcome at GROOS DRUG STORE . . . 1007 Ludington St., Phone ST 6-3552.

Escanaba Cheerleaders Win Award At Camp

The Varsity Cheerleaders of Escanaba Area High School, directed by Mrs. James Green, returned recently from a cheerleading camp held June 30-July 5 at Eastern Michigan University. Financed by a year-long sale of pictures and candy bars, the trip is described by a member of the cheerleading squad.

By CILLA ROSEMURGY

It will be a week the Escanaba Varsity Cheerleaders will never forget.

After placing second runner-up in the final competition, we knew our sore legs and arms were worth it.

Attending the camp from Escanaba Area High School were: Cheryl Chernick (junior), Carol Lambert (senior), Cilla Rosemurgy (senior), Laurie Baillargeon (senior), Kris McDonough (senior), Bette Anderson (junior), Jan Helms (senior), and Paula Fleetwood (senior).

Each of us received second runner-up white ribbons. In addition to learning cheers, yells and pom-pom routines, we made a notebook about our school and teams and gave a speech.

So many people had never heard of Escanaba. It was so much fun talking to the other cheerleaders from the Midwest and exchanging ideas.

One of the daily activities was a seminar. Many problems were brought up there. We felt lucky to have only one—no pep club. The camp gave us information on solving this problem.

We felt proud placing second runner-up, because we felt we represented our school as best we could.

All in all, the camp was very beneficial and a highlight of our lives which we will never forget.

Marinette Gets New Dean For U-W Campus

"The prairie professor" gave up his title yesterday by stepping across the threshold of the classroom-administration building on the University of Wisconsin Marinette County Campus, Marinette. Settling into the dean's office with its window wall framing northeastern Wisconsin's norway, jack and white pine, was Dr. James Olson.

Formerly of Kenosha, Dr. Olson became dean officially July 1, when the Marinette Campus joined the new four-year University of Wisconsin-Green Bay complex.

Dr. Olson became known as "the prairie professor" for his efforts to preserve the Chippewa prairie in southeastern Wisconsin.

Before accepting appointment as dean of Marinette's campus, Dr. Olson was a member of the urban UW-Kenosha Campus faculty for seven years. Dr. Olson received his Ph.D. degree from the Madison Campus in 1961, where he also earned his M.S. degree in botany. His A.B. degree was awarded by Macalester College.

Bauer Dismissed As Oriole Mentor

BALTIMORE (AP) — Earl Weaver, minor league player and manager throughout his baseball career, was named today to replace Hank Bauer as manager of the Baltimore Orioles.

Selection of the 38-year-old Weaver brought up as a manager at Rochester to be a coach this season, was announced at a news conference the day after Bauer was summarily dismissed.

Bauer had been voted best manager of the year twice in his four full seasons at the helm of the Orioles. The second time was after the Orioles won their first American League pennant in 1966 and beat the Los Angeles Dodgers four straight in the World Series.

Weaver was one of three new coaches named by the Orioles last season when the team finished sixth.

"I'm extremely sorry that it was necessary in our judgment to let Hank go at this time," said Harry Dalton, Oriole director of player personnel.

"However, I think we are extremely fortunate to have someone of Earl Weaver's caliber to step into a tough spot. He has proven time and time again that he is an outstanding manager and handler of players, and I have every confidence that he will be a very successful big league manager."

The Orioles currently are in third place with a 43-37 record, but trail leading Detroit by 10 $\frac{1}{2}$ games.

Bauer, twice voted Manager of the Year by The Associated Press, was informed of his discharge in Kansas during the All-Star break Harry Dalton, Oriole director of player personnel, carried the news.

"Hank Bauer has been relieved of his duties as manager of the Orioles," read the announcement issued in Baltimore. "Dalton also announced that Bauer's contract would be honored through the 1968 season."

Dalton added that Bauer would be paid the balance of his contract for $50,000 a year which had been due to expire at the end of the season.

"It wasn't much of a surprise," said the 46-year-old Bauer. "Somebody had to take the blame and I'm the guy. Our team will resume on July 24th."

The women are also reminded that there will be no golf matches next week because of the women's Upper Peninsula Golf Tournament which will be held at the Highland. Matches will resume on July 24th.

The women are also reminded that the standing dinner reservations will not be honored for this coming Wednesday.

Those wishing to make reservations must call either the Highland HO 6-7457 or the dinner chairman, Mrs. Helen Lewis before Monday evening.

Killebrew was disabled for six weeks down the stretch in 1965, but the Twins overcame his injury to win anyway. He wound up hitting only 25 home runs that season — the lowest total in his career.

Killebrew was hitting .204 with 13 home runs this season. Nevertheless, American League players voted him to the All-Star team at first base.

The injury was the second major one for Killebrew in his 10-year major league career. In 1965, when the Twins won the American League pennant, Killebrew dislocated his left elbow in a collision at first base with runner Russ Snyder, then of Baltimore.

The theory is the same as the one I use with the driver. The club will get the ball up. It's made to get it up. You've probably seen pros dig the ball out of holes on the fairway. They don't do it consciously; they let the club do it.

The important thing is not to try to get under the ball and help it up. Just swing down and through and then let the loft of the club get it in the air. The five-wood is ideal for that. I've played with a man who had only 21 woods, a wedge and a putter in his bag. I've even used a wood out of a fairway bunker. At Akron one year, on the 18th hole, with a stiff wind in my face, I grabbed a four-wood and hit a pretty good shot to the right of the green. I know I never could have gotten that close with an iron.

If you've had any anxieties about hitting a golf ball off the tee with a wooden club face, think about the pressures when the ball's nesting in tufts of grass in a fairway.

If you're right around an 80 shooter, go ahead and use the fairway woods immediately. Eliminate the fear of loft. If you don't and quickly, you'll never go to your woods and lose strategic distance. You'll always be playing a five-iron off the fairway on a par-five hole.

I'm not against using a four or even a five-wood in the fairway. A lot of guys who have trouble getting the ball airborne have gone to the "five."

National League Adopts Division Setup For '69

HOUSTON (AP) — For the 162-game schedule.

The AL went along and the Nationals announced the following divisions for 1969:

New York	San Francisco
Montreal	Los Angeles
Philadelphia	San Diego
Pittsburgh	Houston
Chicago	Cincinnati
St. Louis	Atlanta

Earlier, the Americans had split this way:

Minnesota	Cleveland
Chicago	New York
Oakland	Detroit
Kansas City	Baltimore
Seattle	Boston
California	Washington

The plan calls for teams in the same division to play each other 18 times—nine at home and nine away while meeting clubs in the other division 12 times—six at home and six on the road.

Naturally, this eliminates choice attractions for certain clubs and it was this problem that caused the most trouble Wednesday.

But wait a minute. Here was Chicago White Sox owner Arthur Allyn, cooling his heels outside the press conference, preparing a little bombshell of his own.

"The White Sox," said Allyn "are unhappy both with the American League divisional arrangement and the decision to return to 162 games. We will appeal to the Commissioner."

Allyn said the Sox did not want to give up traditional rivalies with the New York Yankees and Detroit Tigers.

Then there are the players to worry about.

The executive board of the Major League Players Association adopted a resolution Tuesday suggesting the return to "the more normal and manageable season that prevailed before the 1961 expansion." Prior to expansion, teams played 154-game schedules.

"Although the American League's proposal of a 156-game schedule is not ideal," the resolution continued, "it is clearly superior to any plan which contemplates an increase in the number of games to be played."

It remains to be seen what the players will do about Wednesday's action.

Starr, 10 Vets Ejected From Camp By Lombardi

By The Associated Press

The possibility that the College All-Star Game in Chicago Aug. 2 may become an early casualty of the hassle between National Football League owners and players was a step nearer reality today.

Vince Lombardi, general manager of Green Bay's champions, followed an order handed down by the owners earlier this week and politely ejected star quarterback Bart Starr and 10 other veterans from the Packers' training camp Wednesday.

Even if a settlement is reached in the dispute that threatens a suspension of NFL activity for the 1968 season—and there were no indications of this—it may not come in time to save the All-Star match.

Lombardi has insisted he won't send the Packers against the collegians in the game just a little more than three weeks away unless he can field a well-conditioned and representative team.

Stars & Co. weren't the only ones with rejection complexes. Quarterback Roman Gabriel and Pat Studstill, former Detroit Lion, were told to leave when they tried to check in with 13 rookies at the Los Angeles Rams' camp at Fullerton, Calif.

And Dallas Cowboy vets reportedly planned to set up their own training camp at Thousand Oaks, Calif., in an effort to get around the owners' decision that all veterans will be barred from regular training sessions until the controversy is settled.

Meanwhile, things were rosy in the American Football League, where players and owners announced agreement Wednesday on a new two-year contract providing increases in player pensions, insurance and exhibition game pay.

Under the new pact, a five-year player at age 65 would receive $689 a month instead of $500, a 10-year player would get $1,132 instead of $775 and a 15-year man would receive $1,497 instead of $990.

Exhibition game pay was boosted from $100 per game for each player to $125 for a two-year man, $150 for third and fourth-year players and $250 for a player with five or more years in the league.

Medical coverage for each active player in the league was increased from $15,000 to $50,000.

The situation was just the opposite in the senior league.

Reports that the NFL owners were planning further negotiations with the players were quickly dismissed by NFL President Art Modell, also president of the Cleveland Browns.

"There are no further negotiations contemplated at the moment," Modell said in Chicago. "They have broken off. Most of the owners have left for their respective homes."

There also was a report that the players planned another vote on the matter. But Dave Manders, player representative of the Dallas Cowboys, reported Detroit's John Gordy, president of the NFL Players Association, said no further polls would be taken until the owners come up with a better offer.

The players are demanding $100,000 from each of the 16 NFL teams for their pension fund. The owners have offered a 25 per cent increase this year and 50 per cent next year with the provision that additional gains established in 1970 would be apportioned to players who end their careers this year or next.

In another development, Jake Gaudauri, Canadian Football League commissioner said Wednesday NFL players involved in the dispute won't be allowed to play in Canada.

Flat Rock scored the winning run in the bottom of the seventh inning on a walk with the bases loaded. Billy Smith got credit for the victory and Joe Blahnik took the loss.

Mead Paper pounded out eight hits in their upset victory over the Merchants. Mead opened the scoring in the first with a pair of runs and added two more in the fourth. Ron Smith, displaying a baffling change-up, was the winning pitcher. Bill McGovern was charged with the defeat.

All-Star Squad Begins Workouts

EVANSTON, Ill. (AP) — A squad of 50 graduated college football stars began assembling at Northwestern University today to open drills leading to the All-Star Game with the Green Bay Packers in Soldier Field Aug. 2.

The players, who will join their respective National Football League teams after the All-Star contest, will start full scale practices Friday.

The game will be the 35th in the series which the pros lead 23-9. Two games ended in ties. The Collegians lost to the NFL champion Packers 27-0 last year and haven't won since 1963 when they surprised Green Bay 20-7.

Lion Brass Greet New Rookies, Free Agents

BLOOMFIELD HILLS (AP) — A handful of rookies, several free agents and an anxious coaching staff of the Detroit Lions looked ahead today to what may be an anxious National Football League season.

The rookies and free agents may be the nucleus of the Lions team as veterans throughout the 16-team league avoided initial meetings.

The Lions brass met Wednesday at Cranbrook School, about 15 miles north of Detroit and greeted the rookies and free agents who have not become affiliated with the NFL Players Association which is forcing a showdown over the issue of pension contributions from the owners.

"We expect to have 25 rookies and free agents on hand for the first workout," said a team spokesman. "After that it will be on a day-to-day basis. We have no way of knowing if any of the rookies plan to join the players association."

Four of the team's top prospects, including No. 1 draft choice Greg Landry, are members of the College All-Stars and are working out in Chicago for the Aug. 2 game with the Green Bay Packers. End Charlie Sanders of Minnesota, kicker Jerry DePoyster of Wyoming and flanker Earl McCullouch of Southern California also were selected to the team.

McCullouch plans to try out for the U.S. Olympic team and may pass up football until after the Olympic Games in October. Another Olympic prospect passing up early camp is Ed Carruthers, a high jumper from Arizona.

Horton Goes To Bat For Tigers And Ghetto Area

BY BILL HALLS
Associated Press Sports Writer

DETROIT (AP) — The love affair between Detroit Tiger fans and slugging outfielder William Wattison Horton is five years old and its ardor shows no sign of cooling off.

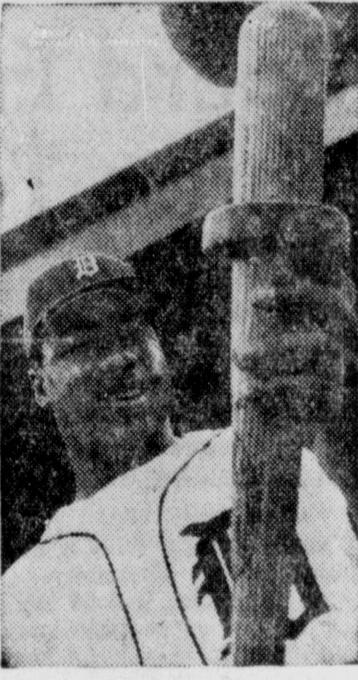

When the Tigers are home, Horton's home stands before each game to cheer the chunky power hitter's every move.

"I get along with the fans pretty good now," says the 25-year-old Horton who grew up on Detroit's West Side. "When I first came up to the majors, I was really scared and didn't know what to do. Most of the time I just stared at the ground. But now I wave to the fans and tip my cap."

Besides being the first home town Tiger star since the days of Hal Newhouser, Horton's major fan attractions are a boyish innocence and the ability to pound home runs in spurts of streak hitting.

"When I first made the majors, the thrill of putting on the uniform every day was no different than it is today," he says. "I think of the millions of kids who dream of making the major leagues and it gives me a chill."

In the off season, Horton spends his time helping kids in the West Side ghetto area which spawned the July riots last summer. He helped form a club of former athletes at

Willie Horton

Northwestern High School where he was a three-sport star.

"We had six dances last year and never once had trouble," Horton says proudly. "When the school has a dance, there is a cop at the door and it creates antagonism with the kids. But I think they respect the athletes."

"Next year we hope to get a bus to take the kids to away games so they don't have to hitchhike."

"I had some people take an interest in me when I was a youngster, and this is the least I can do. The future of the world is in the hands of the kids."

Horton's sizzling bat has put the Tigers back into pennant contention after several mediocre seasons. He hit 12 homers and drove in 22 runs during May to remain in the thick of the American League triple crown fight.

"Willie should hit 40 homers this year provided he doesn't get hurt," says Wally Moses, Detroit batting coach.

Horton missed 43 games last year because of an Achilles tendon injury. It cut his home run output to 19 with 67 runs batted in after 56 homers and 204 RBIs in the previous two seasons.

Detroit Manager Mayo Smith said the partial loss of Horton was a major factor in Detroit's losing the pennant to Boston by one game last year.

Horton underwent surgery last October and doctors removed two bone spurs and a growth the size of a golf ball from his left heel. The operation has been slow to heal.

Horton aggravated the adhesions in spring training and again in May.

"It hurts," Horton says. "Sometimes it hurts plenty. But I'm told by the doctors that it is coming along fine and that I'll just have to play with some pain."

Horton says the injury interferes with his defensive play more than his batting.

"It bothers me not to be able to cut off the ball when I know how to do it but can't run fast enough," he says.

Horton was born in Arno, Va., and his family moved to Detroit when he was a child. His parents, who had 19 children, were killed in an auto accident around Christmas, 1964.

The 5-foot-10, 200-pound slugger, who makes around $35,000 a year, has helped support his 13 brothers and sisters still living as well as his wife, Patricia, and two small children.

But he always has time for other people's kids.

"Athletes keep you out of trouble and they make a man of you," says Horton. "I know when I was a kid, they almost had to drag me off the playgrounds to get me home."

Top Pros Set Sights On Win

CARNOUSTIE, Scotland (AP)

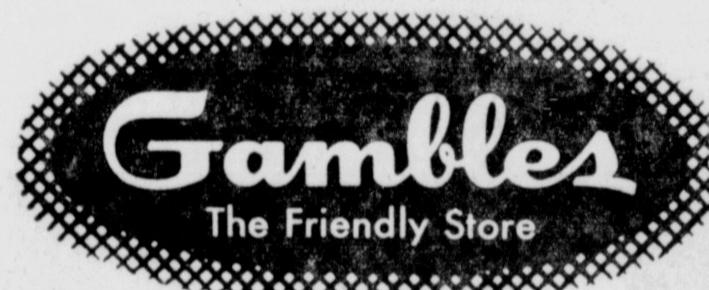

— Arnold Palmer and Jack Nicklaus, the two richest professionals in the golf world, set out today in the second round of the British Open Championship determined to win.

At 71 were two more Englishmen, Peter Mills and Maurice Bembridge, and at par 72 were Billy Casper, of San Diego, Calif., along with Tony Jacklin of England, left-hander Bob Charles of New Zealand and Paddy Skeritt of Ireland.

Scores among the 130 competitors shot all the way up to the eighties as the weather grew cold.

The North Sea winds knocked the thermometer down into the 50's, and the back nine of this frightening seaside links started to behave like an old witch.

Maladies crept in with the wind, including a strange throat virus which seemed to hit hundreds.

Board Engages Three Teachers

The Manistique Area Board of Education on Tuesday night named John LaPointe as football coach of Manistique High School to replace David Lantz, who asked for his release after signing a contract in the spring and also approved the hiring of two other teachers.

Nancy Brown, with a B. S. from Evangel University in Springfield, Mo., will be teaching in the elementary grades and Betty Newlin, a North Park College of Chicago graduate, will be teaching high school level.

Mrs. Brown has five years teaching experience and previously taught in Holland, Ill., for two years and in overseas army dependent schools on Okinawa and in Germany. Mrs. Brown's husband, Dr. Joseph Brown, will enter the practice of dentistry in Manistique.

Still Need Two
Miss Newlin, who will be married to LaPointe this Saturday, taught Spanish and English in Stephenson for two years.

To complete the certified personnel staff in the area schools a fifth and sixth grade teacher is needed for the Germfask School and a librarian for the Manistique School Library.

Supt. Edwin Wuehle told the board.

The board authorized Wuehle to advertise the unused Riverside, Doyle and Thompson schools for sale and to re-advertise the Putnam property. The school buildings cost about $1,000 a year to maintain, Wuehle said, and are attractive nuisances for children living in the areas.

Committees Named

Robert Knopf and Ralph Gillam were appointed to investigate cost estimates for converting the Germfask School boiler from coal to oil. Joe Wood, head custodian, told the board that an oil-fired boiler would eliminate paying overtime to a custodian, who must now fill the coal stoker on weekends. Wood estimated the cost of conversion at $2,800.

Earl LeBrasseur was re-appointed to serve on the Library Board; Margaret Waters will serve on the ESEA Advisory Committee; Jeanne Larson on the Community School Advisory Committee; and Robert Knopf was appointed to the PTA Advisory Committee.

Wuehle advised the board that only eight students would be enrolled at the Germfask School in the fall and the board approved transporting the students to the Doyle School.

Lottery Bill Veto Is Urged

LANSING (AP)—Rep. George Montgomery, D-Detroit, Wednesday asked Gov. George Romney to veto a bill regulating lottery type games at gasoline stations.

As introduced, Montgomery's bill would have banned all games of chance at gasoline stations, grocery stores and other retail outlets.

But it emerged from a house-senate conference committee regulating only lottery type games at gasoline stations.

"They turned the bill inside out and, in effect, gave legislative approval to the games," Montgomery said.

Romney has until July 23 to act on the measure.

The compromise version passed by the legislature provides that no person can force an agent or lessee to purchase game promotions. In addition, any person conducting a game of chance must display a card detailing the number of outlets in which the game is to be conducted, minimum number and amount of cash prizes offered, and the minimum of other type prizes available.
